Within five min-utes Broadway was ringing with the blare of many bugles and the neighboring hotel lobbies and sidewalk crowds were being searched by active young-sters in the olive drab, all buttonboling men of service age. Particularly did they lay for such youths as came toward the white lights with girls on their arms.

"How about YOU; when are YOU roming?" they asked of each beau. Into hotels they went, nabbing young travelling salesmen and demanding to know how long it would take them to hear the bugle.
